Cloudiff Monitor Agent Edit Comments Removal What is DRP?, What is JB?, What is LOA?, What is LOE? The Question of the Day is: Answer DRP is a Co-Apoicant of the Dark Root Dark Root is a type of malware that takes over your system and gives itself administrative control. This is usually the first thing found on a machine when it starts having problems, even though it can actually be any where in the system. DARKROOT (pronounced DARKROOT) is a malicious software that enters your computer or laptop without your permission. DRP is able to take complete control of the infected system and move files to remote locations. If you type "darkroot" into your Windows Search, you will find many interesting results. The other option is to google it and see what
